Trade Show Frequently Asked Questions

Q. Can I attend the meetings if I buy a table?

A. No. The Trade Show Registration is separate from the Meeting Registration, however if you would like to attend the entire conference we welcome you to register and pay for the education session as well.

Q. Is Electrical Power available for my display?

A. There is a limited amount of 120V Electrical Power available for displays. Please let me know in advance if you need an electrical hook-up and I will try to have one available.

Q. Are the tables reserved?

A. No. Since most vendors fail to register by the established deadline, I have found that we can better accommodate everyone who wants to participate by making table selection first come first serve. If you want a particular table location, come early.

Q. When will the room be available?

A. The room is available See Notice in Registration.

Q. Do I have to provide a door prize?

A. No. Door prizes are strictly optional. If you do want to provide one, we will hold regular drawings throughout the show.

Q. Do I get a banquet ticket with my table registration?

A. 1 Yes. For each table You and a guest (2 per Table) are welcome to attend the Wednesday Breakfast, Lunch and evening BBQ.

Note: Since we consider the Evening BBQ Dinner a family event we do invite the entire family to this meal and entertainment.

Speaker Biography

Jon Dudley

West Virginia Territory Manager, Jon Dudley's career includes seven years with Ingersoll Rand as an "in the field factory representative". He is knowledgeable in providing solutions for safe and secure doorways.

Jon has a rich background in the physical security field. This all started with his commitment to the US Air Force as a law enforcement officer. After being injured and retired out of the Air Force, he stayed in Europe and supported the Army Air Force Exchange Service with loss prevention and OSHA (Occupational Safety and Health Administration) compliance.

In 1994 he joined the Longaberger Company. While with Longaberger, he matured more into the physical security field and also the executive personnel security field. Jon attended several security related seminars and classes, including professional locksmithing certification by Lockmasters Incorporated.

In 2004 Jon joined the Ingersoll Rand as a factory representative for the Ohio and later the West Virginia territory. While there he has assisted several companies with their security and safety needs, but notables are the Abercrombie & Fitch Company, The Ohio State University, Port Columbus International Airport, the West Virginia Army National Guard, West Virginia University, Nationwide Insurance Corporate Office, CAMC, United and Cabell Huntington Hospitals and Marietta College to name a few. In 2006 Jon took over the role of the West Virginia Territory Manager.

Jon is a member of the Associated Locksmiths of America and the West Virginia Chapter of American Society of Industrial Security (ASIS) These associations allows Jon to stay up to date on security issues and trends across the nation. Jon_Dudley@irco.com
